

ACTOR AND CREW PARTICIPATION AGREEMENT

This Agreement is made and entered into in connection with the film project Faryaadnama, undertaken by Faltu Films in collaboration with Khel Tamasha Productions. The project is written and directed by Atifa Naeem and produced and edited by Mirab Amjad (collectively referred to as “the Production”). This Agreement is entered into between the Production and the undersigned actor or crew member (hereafter referred to as “the Participant”) for the purpose of confirming the Participant’s involvement in the film shoot.

By entering into this Agreement, the Participant formally accepts and agrees to perform all duties, responsibilities, and obligations required for their assigned role in the production. The Participant acknowledges that filmmaking is a collaborative professional process and agrees to carry out all assigned work with full commitment, discipline, and responsibility. All instructions, responsibilities, and expectations communicated directly or indirectly by the Director and Producer shall be considered binding, and the Participant agrees to fulfill all such duties to the best of their professional ability.

The Participant further acknowledges that participation in the production requires reliability, punctuality, and consistent availability during scheduled work. The Participant agrees that personal matters, conflicts, or circumstances shall not interfere with their professional obligations to the production. In the event that personal issues disrupt, delay, or prevent the Participant from fulfilling their assigned responsibilities, the Participant accepts accountability for any resulting impact on the production and acknowledges that the work schedule and production requirements shall take precedence during the agreed working period.

The Participant confirms their full commitment to their assigned role and agrees to complete all work required of them in support of the production. This Agreement is binding for the duration of the production period and shall remain in effect until Tuesday, 17 February, on which date this preliminary contractual obligation shall automatically conclude unless formally extended by the Production in writing.

By signing below, the Participant confirms that they understand and accept the terms of this Agreement, commit to fulfilling their role responsibly, and agree to comply with all professional expectations and instructions issued by the Production.
